Advisory Services Takes the Guesswork Out of the Insurance Process

Meyer and Associates, which manages insurance programs for scores of collegiate alumni and alumnae associations nationwide, now offers Advisory Services to guide customers in making wise insurance decisions.

When a complicated insurance need arises, it can be difficult to find and compare products to provide adequate protection. A licensed insurance professional is now available, at no charge, to answer questions and provide details on specific products. Alumni can contact an advisor directly and confidentially -- by e-mail or phone. A variety of products are available for individuals, families, groups, and even small businesses.

For those who are seeking life insurance policies in excess of $1 million, need answers to unusual questions about their insurability, or have a special health situation that requires additional coverage, Advisory Services can help. Special Event insurance is available for weddings or other functions that require short-term policies. Travel insurance ranging from travel medical and trip cancellation to extreme sports is also available.
